

REMARKS

This is in response to the Office Action dated March 11, 2004. All previous arguments regarding claim 10 are withdrawn. Herein, this amendment places previously indicated allowable subject matter into claim 10.

In particular, claim 10 has been amended to require that "an electric signal which is input to the electrode pattern is supplied from at least one of a power supply for a source driving circuit and a power supply for a gate driving circuit." The Examiner has already indicated that this is allowable subject matter. For example, see the Examiner's reasons for allowance regarding previous claim 7 in paragraph 5 of the Office Action dated March 11, 2004.

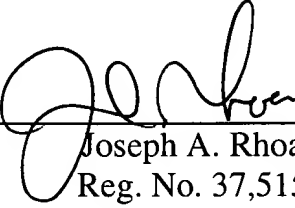

Now that allowable subject matter has been added to claim 10, all claims are in condition for allowance. If any minor matter remains to be resolved, the Examiner is invited to telephone the undersigned with regard to the same.
